

Color Photos*

* Due to technical considerations we gathered the color photos at the end of the book

The yellow Jewish star (Magen David) which we were obliged to wear.

The transport numbers of Maud and Hermann in Theresienstadt

Hermann's transport number Theresienstadt - Poland

My mother gave me a small photoalbum, in Ghetto Theresienstadt for my fifteenth birthday which she manufactured from Glimmer (mica).

Kaethe and Fritz on their honeymoon, 1928

Karmela – Maccabi playground in Prostejov, 1940

Maud and Ruth Weisz - Maccabi playground in Prostejov, 1940

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

The Jewish cemetery in Ivancice

The grave of Charlotte Steiner (Samek)

Isaias (b. 1845) was married twice to (Charlotte and Rosa) He had 9 children. Only five of his children had families.

The graves of the brothers Elkana and Isaias Steiner. Charlotte and Isaias Steiner were the parents of my grandmother Steffi Steiner.

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

The Jewish cemetery in Prostejov

The grave of Charlotte and Jakob Steiner
– parents of my grandfather Max Steiner

Jakob b. 1845 Prostejov
died 6.6.1921 Prostejov
Scharlotte (nee Husserl)
Born and died in Prostejov.

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

Steckelmacher

Klotilde (b. Eisler)

Died 1928 in

Prostejov

Jakob b.1858

Died 1938 in

Prostejov

My father's parents.

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

July 1971, Ran's Bar Mitzvah. Hanan, Karmela, Jano, Shimon, Rani, Kaethe, Naomi, Ednah, Maud (Michal), Yael

1972, Hanan, Ednah, Yael in Beit- Lehem Hagalilit.

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

December, 1974, Tel Aviv, Hanan, Ednah, Yael

1978, 26th March, Kaethe and Yael (Kaethe's 70th birthday)

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

Yael, Kaethe, Inbal, Rani, Eli, Naomi, Ednah.

October 1979 Yael (Tel-Aviv)

1980 , Tel Aviv, Shimon and Michal (Maud).

1981, Kiryat Gat, Kaethe with dog Shesh.

April, 1982, greatgrandmother Kaethe with Inbal and Tali.

13th December, 1984, The Wedding of Sarah and Hanan. Yael, Jano, Karmela, Rani, Naomi, Sarah, Hanan, Shimon, Ednah, Haim (Eli's father) Tali, Eli, Inbal, Kaethe, Michal.

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

13th December 1984, the Wedding of Sarah and Hanan. On the right Yael with Inbal.

April, 1986. From left to right: Tali, Adi, Inbal.

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

The Michalovic Family: Ednah with Adi, Eli with Tali and Inbal in Kibbutz Huliot.

July, 1994 Noa, Lior, Dana

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

1997, Inbal's 20th birthday in our flat in Tel Aviv: Shimon, Oded (Inbal's friend), Tali, Eli, Lior, Michal and Noa, Adi, Ednah, Naomi, Sarah with Dana.

25th August, 2006 Noa, Hanan Dana, Sara, Lior

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

April 16th, 1997, Ednah and Eli.

2008, Tali, Eli, Adi, Ednah, Inbal

25th August, 2006 Karmela and Michal.

What Fire Can't Burn / Color Photos

1991, Wedding of Daliah and Rani: Naomi, Kaethe, Karmelah, Daliah, Rani, Jano.

1991, Wedding of Daliah and Rani: Rani, Kaethe, Daliah.

August, 2007; Jano and Itai; Karmela and Rani; Naomi, Maayan, Daliah, Rani.

Acknowledgments

I originally wrote this book in Hebrew, but it was published for the first time in 2005 in Czech by the Municipal Museum in Prostějov. The publication was financed by the Municipality of Prostějov and by the Foundation of the Jewish Museum in Prague. The Hebrew book was printed in Tel Aviv.

I would like to thank all the people who have helped to publish the book.

Without their help, their experience and their advice my memoirs would still be written on slips of paper in my drawer.

My first assistants were my daughter Yael and my husband Shimon of blessed memory.

My thanks to Mgr. Eva Strnadlova who initiated the printing of the book in the Czech language, and to Lena Makarova for the editing.

I am grateful to Mr. Vaclav Hruska the former director of the Museum in Prostějov, to the historian Dr. Marie Dokoupilova, and to the designer Mr. Frantisek Spacil for their professional assistance.

I would also like to express my gratitude to the Rabbanit Mrs. Nurit Fried, to Nonet Eick from Kibbutz Ginnegar and to my friends from Theresienstadt and from Israel, who helped with the Hebrew publication of the book.

Most of the members of my close family have helped me throughout this process, but without the faithful support of my son Hanan, the printing of the book would not be accomplished.

For the English translation of the book I want to thank Yad Vashem, my dear friend Debbie Bermann, Paul King and all the anonymous translators who worked hard to translate the book.

Finally my thanks to Naomi Yalin for her linguistic advice and editing of the English text while preserving my own personal style.

Maud Michal Beer.

